Q3. As an individual, prepare a perception checking response to each of the following scenarios. (Please do not repeat the given situations in your answers)

1. You and your roommate have a deal: whoever makes the evening meal also does the dishes. He made the meal last night. When you wake up in the morning, you see the dirty dishes still in the sink. When you see your roommate, what would you say?

2. Your neighbor usually responds in kind to your “good morning” as each of you heads out for the day. He hasn’t responded for the last three days. What would you say to him?

3. You haven’t received a phone call from your mother in over a month. The last time you talked with her, you had an argument because you are not planning to go home for the holidays this year. What would you say to her when you call her?
